

SUBLIMINALISTICS

Synopsis of full document:

Subliminalistics forms an entire new scientific field. Almost everybody has been, now, acquainted with the existence of sophisticated techniques of psycho-suggestion that occurs below the threshold of our consciousness. Through specific new techniques of mental concentration, this science offers the possibility to influence people's psychobehavior with dramatic accuracy and efficiency, without them even to know it. In fact, such an adjustment occurs entirely below the threshold of their perception or consciousness, which is precisely the characteristic and advantage of the subliminal domain.

Subliminalistics is a true science. It can be taught, demonstrated and, above all, experimented, with systematic reproducibility.

Subliminalistic applications are practically unlimited. Among some of the most valuable subliminalistic applications, let us mention, first and foremost, the treatment of crime as societal epidemic by nonviolent and non-repressive methods.... In relation with the magnitude of the related subliminalistic operation we would implement, the reduction of criminal statistics ranges from 10% up to 50%.

Aside from its criminological applications, Subliminalistics shows an equal level of serviceability in the domain of enhancement and optimization of individuals and groups,... otherwise untreatable by classical means (such as "special-operation" police or military units, sportive teams or individuals, people involved in political races or sensitive economic challenges).

When it is scientifically processed on behalf of some selected objective, the subliminal release of impressive reserves of mental and vital energy, otherwise inaccessible and unemployed, brings the team or the individual up to full potential.
